SHIVA PURI PEAK 2725M-7 HRS WALK

Trip Overview

Drive to Guruge Bhanjyang at 1:30hrs, as soon as you drop off from the vehicle, it breathes a talking view of the Valley and the mountain ranges. We start to hike through the thick Forest, as it’s a National park, there are two different tracks, one is old, which has been used by local people from another side to come into Kathmandu, and a new one is developed by Nepal tourism board, it’s laid rocks and staircases. The terrain is along the ridge, so you could get a view of both sides of Kathmnadu Valley and the Himalayas ranges, only a few times do we get to see the view because of the thick tall tree hiking underneath, as the new trail still under construction so some places they overlap someplace totally different trail make you confuse can get lost too. But it's not dangerous. You get to see the ground freshly dug out by wild boar lolling for the food, so many species of birds mainly in the spring is the best time for the birds watching around here. Chestnut trees, Huge very old oak trees are beautiful and rhododendron Nepal's national flower, walking through huge trees it’s a jungle walk. The top of the Shivapuri, it’s the highest peak around views of the Himalayan range from the top are amazing, every time we go people say they don’t want to go back to Kathmandu because it's very pretty, nature is beautiful. Now start descending to another side of big huge Oak trees and small bushes early spring and mid-spring is the best time for hiking. Downhill very important site in Hinduism name of the site Baag Dawar is very holy, and the biggest temple in Nepal is Pashupatinath, in Kathmnadu. So the river flows by Pashupatinath Temple is the Bagmati River this river starts right from the Bagdawar, Translation is (Tiger Door). It's interesting small beautiful man-made pond water comes out from the rocks and statues of Hindu deities also there is a small natural cave where are Shadu lives. Then continue to walk for some time traversing most of the time downhill still very oak trees. Very nice spot if pick it up in the middle of the forest after 30mins walk arrive at Nagi Gomba located in the best spot itself nunnery Buddhist monastery there are many nuns who practice Buddhist Dharma. The view of the valley is magnificent, walk to Budhanilkantha where we get the vehicle and drive back to Hotel/home. The drive takes about an hour to the city center. This hike would be a bit longer than the other hikes.

As it’s a national park no teashop or shop. We will provide a Vehicle and pack lunch. Please get 2 liters of drinking water with you.

We will get a vehicle and drive back to Hotel/home. Driving takes 1:30 hours to get back in town.
